We treated one woman with a brain tumor that had caused complete blindness in one eye. She took an anti-seizure medication daily but could no longer afford her medication. We were able to purchase the medication, and the church gave her that medication and shared the gospel with her. Both she and her daughter made professions of faith that day.

The interpreters were folks who responded to an advertisement put out on a website for people who are trying to learn English and/or become more proficient in their use of English. Many of the interpreters were unsaved and asked about why we were providing these free services, opening opportunities to share the gospel. One of our interpreters was even a Catholic nun! It was exciting to share the gospel with these interpreters who were by our side all week.

This trip was the first one that involved COVID-19 concerns, so it was challenging to determine how to safely run our clinics while adhering to protocols. A screening process was employed to split patients between the general and the high-risk areas, and our staff worked through multiple obstacles to set this flow up in five different locations. Practice truly made perfect. We also enjoyed the blessing of working with multiple health care professionals from this church throughout the week.

Patients Seen:	25

The historic trip for the long-awaited opening of the Rearick Surgical Center was truly a miracle right before our eyes. It took every person on our team, plus many local church volunteers organized by Dr. Frazer, to see this dream come true. The patients and their families were loved and valued, from the moment they walked into the door for their pre-operative appointment, and the open doors for gospel conversations will no doubt continue as the church family from El Faro follows up in the weeks and months ahead.

This trip was originally scheduled to be Panama 2020, the very first trip we had to postpone due to the pandemic. This group of volunteers weathered quite the storm, because we had to change the location just months before the trip due to restrictions in Panama and the host missionary's inability to receive a team. Thankfully, spirits were great and our team members were aching to serve wherever they could. We were reminded that we serve with incredible gospel-focused people who want to serve wherever the Lord opens a door.
